GOOD HEALTH HINTS

Oklahoma Farmer Gives Sound Advice on Avoiding Sickness.—Used Black-Draught 30 Years.

Cameron, Okla.—"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for about thirty years, and certainly ought to know by this time what a good medicine it is," says Mr. T. L. Bostler, a well-known farmer of this place. Mr. Bostler has passed his three-score-and-tenth year, but declares his health still is good, "and I can say Black-Draught did its part."

"Where there is a lot of malaria, a liver medicine is a necessity, and I have never found one better than Black-Draught," continues the Oklahoman. "It is one that I know to be reliable. I sure use it for the liver, stomach, constipation, indigestion, and it has done me a world of good. We use it for the family, and it gives satisfaction."

"Most trouble, or sickness, comes from the liver, and if taken in time can be avoided. That is why I use Black-Draught as I do. I am much pleased with results obtained." Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable. It acts on the bowels, gently stimulating the liver, and helps increase the normal flow of bile into the intestines. It assists in the digestion of food, and relieves constipation in a prompt and natural way.

The Daily Register is authorized to announce the following candidates for FOR COUNTY JAILER: J. W. TARTER, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FAIR CORN PRICE TO BE MAINTAINED

While there is a decrease in the price of corn in various other counties, the Madison county price is still $5 per barrel, and it is not believed it will drop far below that. A number of producers stated, upon being asked regarding the decline in the price of the product in other counties, stated they would hold their corn before disposing of it much below the $5 mark, since that would be below the price of production, and they would not realize anything for their work, but would lose on the transaction.

In Jessamine county there is a record-breaking corn crop, and it is reported as being sold for $3.50 to $4.50 per barrel. These prices have not been reached here, nor will they according to the producers. The quality of the corn here this year is just about the best ever. "There are no nutbins for the cows," said one of those in discussing the quality of the corn. He said that thin ground that was not usually adapted to corn raising was producing excellent corn this season and that the price, no matter what the quantity, would be maintained to a standard that would admit of a little profit being made, or it would be withheld from the consumer.

GUARD AND CONVICT ELOPE FROM PRISON

Milledgeville, Ga., Nov. 3.—Officials at the State penitentiary here have announced that J. W. Gans, a guard at the women's building, and Juanita Weaver, a prisoner, "quietly eloped" late Saturday night. Juanita was serving a sentence of one year for shoplifting, having been convicted in Atlanta last May. She is described as being about 21 years old and a blonde.

MIDDLESBORO SCHOOL PRINCIPAL IS SLAIN

Middlesboro, Ky., Nov. 5.—Prof. Barnes, principal of the Middlesboro High School, was shot and wounded fatally, by Adolphus Oaks. It is reported that Prof. Barnes had whipped Oaks' sister, a high school student, last Thursday, which presumably was the cause of the shooting. Barnes had tendered his resignation to the Board of Education and had planned to leave the city Saturday. Oaks is in jail.

Debs said he would not be disappointed at the election returns. He is one of the few—well, many then.

JOLLY PRISONERS OFF FOR FRANKFORT

Quintet Safely Landed at State Prison After Having Been Convicted in Local Court.

There was a party of eight, a quintet of recently convicted men in the Madison county circuit court, and three prisoners, left Thursday for Frankfort, where the prisoners will serve from one to 18 years for various crimes committed in this county.

The list follows:
Jonh Keeton, convicted and sentenced to a term of 2 years in prison for the killing of Ben Powell, at the carnival grounds some time ago.

Stanley Rogers, charged with stealing chickens, convicted during the May term of court and held pending further investigation of the case after his trial during the summer.

Steve Stevens, charged and convicted on two charges, one having been read to him after hearing the testimony in one of the cases. He received, according to the docket, one year for each offense, however, will be returned here at the expiration of the first term, and it is believed, will be dismissed, should his behavior justify it, without further prosecution. Friends of the young man have interceded in his behalf and are of the belief that he will be able to escape the second sentence.

Thomas Gentry, colored, convicted of the murder of Dave Campbell, also colored, will serve 18 years in prison. The murder is said to have been premeditated and took place at the L. & N. crossing, some time ago, when the two men met.

Walter Williams, colored, clever with the pen and careless in issuing forged checks, was also sent along. Williams and Gentry seemed the least concerned of the list of prisoners. Keeton was anxious to get started on his sentence, he said. It is believed this man will not lose any time as a result of not being a model prisoner. He said he wanted to go to work, for he was used to it, and would give a good account of himself.

The officers in charge are Sheriff P. S. Whitlock, Deputy Sheriff Sant Bush and George Noland. They reported the prisoners were well behaved and declared the "bunch" was the elvliest they had had to conduct with for years. The trip was made without incident, and the men properly turned over the state prison authorities.

HORSE TRADER KILLED BY JAILER AT COLUMBIA

Columbia, Ky., Nov. 3.—Achilles W. Tarter, jailer of Adair county, is under guard in his own jail here today following the killing last evening of Frank Carnes, a horse trader, who was shot in front of the jail by Tarter, who claims self-defense. Carnes was shot off his horse on which he was riding to his home four miles from town. He was with several companions. As they rode by the jail remarks are said to have been passed and Tarter came out. Tarter told the sheriff and county judge to whom he surrendered that Carnes shot three or four times at him, but no weapon was found. The grand jury will hear Tarter's case tomorrow. The two had had previous difficulties. Carnes leaves a widow and child.

GIRL SCOUTS TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 6.—The Girl Scouts of America will conduct their membership campaign from November 6 to 15. Gov. E. P. Morrow has issued a statement urging the young women of the state to become members of the organization. His statement follows:

"The Girl Scouts of America will, from November 6th to 15th, conduct their membership campaign. This organization is non-sectarian, nonpartisan and altogether American and patriotic. The great purpose of the organization is the development of better womanhood throughout the United States as exemplified by its motto, 'Be Prepared,' and its slogan, 'Do a Good Turn Daily.'"

"This organization is making a splendid and conservative contribution to our national life. It trains young womanhood of America in citizenship, home-making, and health building—it is a vital factor in the conservation of our human resources—it saves, develops and strengthens ideals. As Governor of Kentucky, permit me to urge the young women of Kentucky to become members of this organization, to the end that those who are to make and to keep the new Kentucky home may be prepared."

"I hope the press of the state will give every publicity to the movement, and that our people will lend it every encouragement."

The turkey season opened Wednesday and many fowls were brought to the city. There will be a big demand, it is said by dealers, here within a short time. Thanksgiving, together with the approaching holidays means a big business along this line.

WITH THE MOVIES

"Jes' Call Me Jim"
Will Rogers blossoms into the zenith of his glory with a rush that is one of the miracles of photoplay history in "Jes' Call Me Jim." This homely, hard-bitten, sun-tanned wit of the western plains, with his bashful grin and twinkling eye, comes closer to the accepted ideal of typical American than any other man before the public. The picture seems well suited to his personality as the flannel shirt and coonskin cap he wears. The picture is being shown in Richmond today.

Frank Mayo at His Best
A thousand nondescript vehicles, thousands of bewildered beasts at burden, more thousands of excited, clamoring humans are all drawn in a line half a mile long, waiting for the pistol shot that opens a territory of rich land to homesteaders.
Such a mad race, with its thousands of participants, is seen in the "Hitchin' Post," to be seen with Frank Mayo starring at his best at the local theaters Monday.
Mayo is supported by a wonderful cast and the picture will warm up your blood.

SUNSET AVENUE NO NEW THOROFARE

Folks There Know What They're Talking About and Want Recognition From City

"Residents and property owners on Sunset avenue want to be recognized!"

This somewhat startling exclamation came from a member of the city council Thursday night at the regular meeting, and there was consternation. Mayor Evans as well as others looked about, pinched themselves and were expecting to hear someone yell, "all out, end of the line," when someone called out, "Poosy Ridge."

There was a little enlightenment upon the subject. Members of the audience and city officials looked again at one another knowingly and reassuringly, for they realized they were still in the council chamber.

"Thurman avenue," quoth the third, after some snickering and suppressed laughter, whereupon Mayor Evans said there was no joke about it at all, and he got real serious for a moment; then said he really believed his wife had figured in a conspiracy to give the metropolitan title to the thoroughfare originally known as Thurman avenue, dubbed "Poosy Ridge" by the mayor, and called Sunset avenue with pride by the proud and painstaking residents and property owners. It is claimed these property owners have expended considerable money and muscle to enhance the beauty of the neighborhood, and they desire recognition.

They want the old muddy street fixed so it will to some extent conform to the beauty, environments, etc., especially the environments as one man put it, but that's what they are petitioning the council for, and they feel that if asphalt can be provided for the uptown streets they should at least have a "respectable" (this from a woman) street to be known as Sunset avenue. The name does not appropriately coincide with the muddy street; the color effect is all wrong from an artistic standpoint, and forthwith that thoroughfare will be officially known as Sunset avenue, Mayor Evans and those who snickered notwithstanding. The council decided to get busy and take a look at the avenue and see what they could do, for they surely appreciate the new thoroughfare since they have it located.

TO FINISH PAVING WITHIN ONE WEEK

Within one week's time the work of paving the streets of the city will have been finished, according to the estimate of those in charge at this time, unless there is constant interference upon the part of the weather man.

The concrete work will be finished Saturday, and this force of men will be placed in connection with the pavers with the result that this will be accomplished more rapidly. The material for the remainder of the asphalt will be on hand within a day or two, and this work will not be stopped as long as the weather will permit of the big gang of men working.

The task, which has been an extensive one, is said to be one of the most complete to be found, and the quality of the paving out of the ordinary. This, it is claimed, is due to both the management and quality of material utilized, which is the best.

WHEAT AND CORN PROSPECTS GOOD

Farmers estimate there is one-third more corn cut this year than last. The work has been very extensive, and is now reported as being finished in this section of the state. The corn is of good quality as well, the production being said to be greater than usual. There is not the field feeding this year that is usually in evidence, it is said, and great quantities are to be cribbed later on. Corn in many localities was slow in ripening owing to the weather, it is said, but the quality was not injured.

The fall wheat is said to be looking up since the recent rains, it having been held back by the extremely dry weather. The indication are now that the crop, which is large, will be in good condition for the winter. Should there be more rain, farmers state, there will be no harm done, while should there be a long dry period, they assert, the wheat has sprouted and will be developed anyhow.

Order has been restored in the Alabama cotton fields and all serious rioting has stopped.

LAW ARE ABUSED, SAYS CITY'S MAYOR

Ordinance Regarding Parking of Machines and Leaky Autos To Be Enforced Now

There have been two city ordinances pertaining to parking of automobiles and allowing the same to remain on paved streets in a leaky condition, badly abused during the past two weeks, according to reports of city officials, and some information was sought by Mayor Evans at the regular meeting of the council regarding the time when the ordinances were to be strictly enforced. He stated that this matter had been left to the judgment of the police, and while he found that there had been no accidents nor serious collisions, he believed the time was ripe for the stopping of this practice. However, he added that the matter had been left to the police. Chief of Police Claud Devore mentioned the fact that it was a difficult thing to bring about the enforcement of a big list of new at one time. This was accepted as a very true statement and it is believed the police know more about it than anyone else. But the ordinances will be brought into play as a protection for newly paved streets and it is probable a number of arrests will be the result.

"I am of the opinion that the quicker we get them out of the way of disobeying this ordinance the better it will be for all concerned as well as the streets," commented the Mayor, whereupon he was informed by the Chief of Police that this will be done, and there would be a strict enforcement henceforth.

There has been but little time given to the matter of time machines have been allowed to stand in various places, especially in the restricted zone, and there have been some of the largest assemblages of machines in the history of the city during the past month, and these facts add to the difficulty in pressing the new law to the letter.

The parking ordinance stands and will be given a trial, it is expected, at once, and the matter of leaky cars which has brought about one arrest and fine, promises to be more prolific along this line in the near future.

ROADS ALL GOOD WILL BE REPORT

The work of grading and finishing the Richmond-Berea pike will be reported as completed within a few days with a continuance of favorable weather. The work on this road is going on both in Madison and Rockcastle counties. The Dixie Highway work is progressing to the south and another two weeks are all that will be required, it is believed, to finish the work mapped out for this highway this winter, although it may be extended if weather permits, in order to complete as much of the task further on as possible this year.

The Red House work is progressing, the new bridge assuming shape, and the cut in the roadway which will be straightened it is reaching a phase indicating it will not be long till the work is finished for the winter. Other work in the county is coming along in good shape, and the highways of Madison county, especially where they connect city this city and other counties, are said to be in the best condition possible.

HELLO, WINCHESTER!

The extensive new toll line connecting Richmond with Winchester is to be connected soon, and the second line will soon be in order. Winchester and Richmond have sufficient business of a routine nature, it is said, to keep the one line busily engaged, hence the construction of the new one. This is being built by the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company, and is said to be one of the most staunch and complete to be found anywhere. In case of storm, it is believed it will be able to withstand the ravages of both wind and sleet, and the service will be in order within a short time. There has been more or less interference with service on the line heretofore, and in case of the line being broken by storm there will be the new one which, it is believed, can be relied upon unless storms should be severe than usual. The company has been expending thousands of dollars during the present year on the improvement.

The Product of Experience

Enjoyment ceases to be complete when you feel it is extravagance.

The certainty that a car conserves your money—that its every feature renders you the utmost service, is the most gratifying feeling about it.

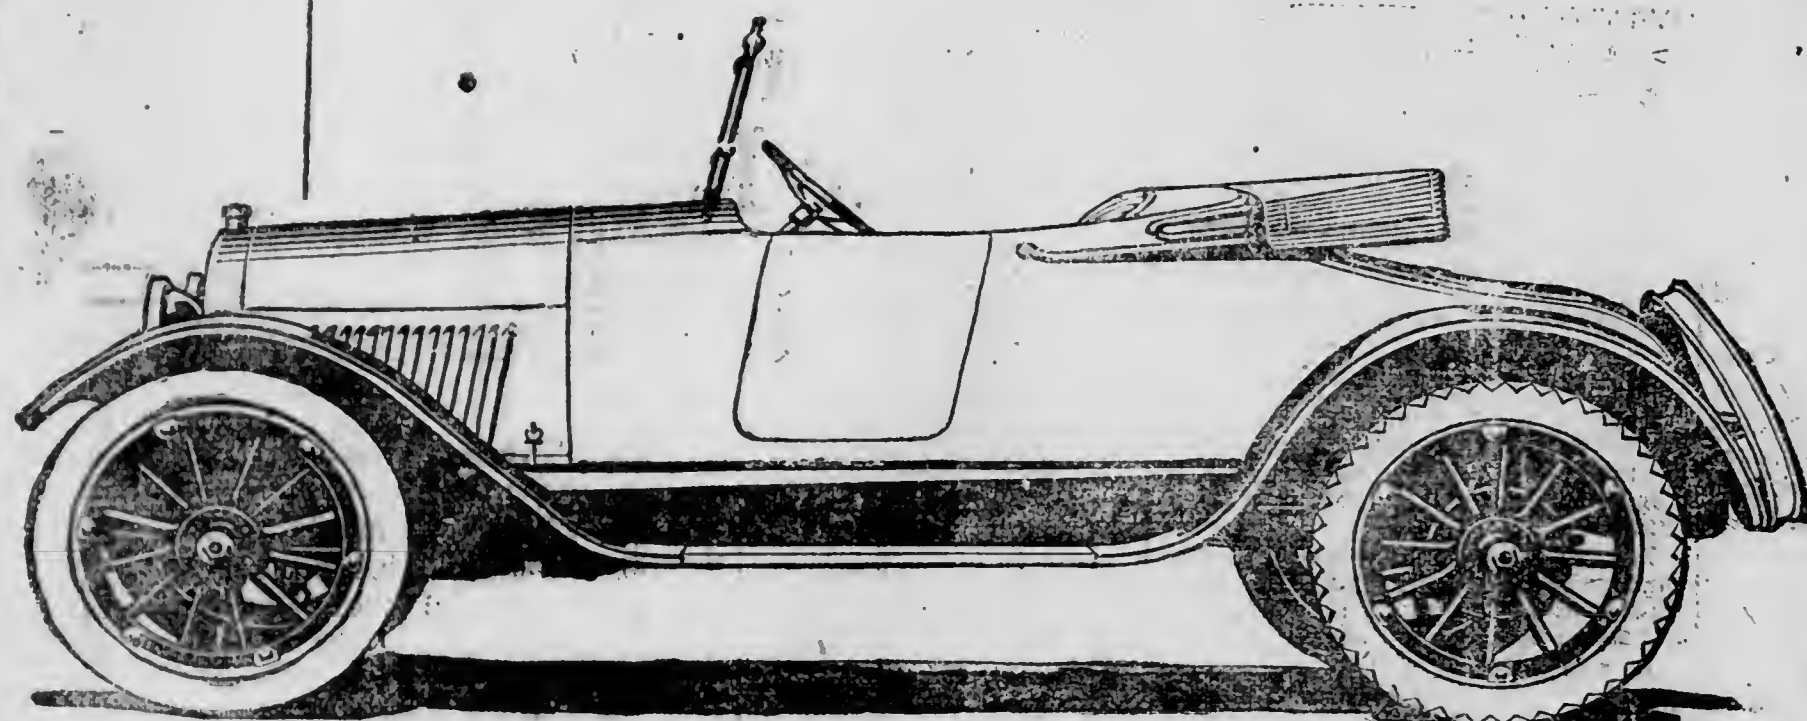

That is why more people buy Chevrolets in preference to heavier types that are a burden on your pocketbook.

The experience of veteran motorists has proven that the Chevrolet affords you all the feelings essential to complete enjoyment. Pride in its appearance and absolute confidence in its dependability alone guarantee your peace of mind. Yet in addition the Chevrolet offers every riding and driving comfort and equipment convenience. These things are to be enjoyed equally in a Chevrolet as in other cars. But in the Chevrolet alone can you enjoy them at such low cost.

That is the peculiar attraction of the Chevrolet—all essential features other cars afford, but at lower cost. Do not entertain any doubts on this score. Give us an opportunity to show you how and why this is true.

Only a Cold

Are you ill? is often answered—"Oh! it's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start from a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help to throw it off.

St. Louis Girl Found In Weeds; Throat Cut

St. Louis, Nov. 6—Miss Edna Ellis, 13, was found murdered in a clump of weeds in a vacant lot in the northern section of the city. Miss Ellis was a stenographer and was considered pretty. Her throat had been slashed with a broken razor and was found near the body. The girl had been beaten severely. Both eyes were discolored and her left jaw was swollen. The body bore numerous marks of maltreatment.

The condition of the ground near where the body was found indicated Miss Ellis had fought desperately with her assailant. The lot is located in a populous section. Miss Ellis, who lived near the scene of the murder, was last seen getting off a street car in the neighborhood en route to her home from work. Shortly before the body was found at 2 a. m., Miss Ellis' mother reported to police that her daughter had not come home last night.

Elaborate Affair at Home of Prominent Madison Couple —Features of Event

It was one of the most auspicious golden wedding celebrations recorded in Madison county for years and there were many friends and relatives from a distance in attendance. The Gentry home was thrown open to visitors at an early hour and the dinner, a three course affair and a feature of the day, as well as the event, was most elaborate, consisting of all obtainable in the way of dainty and wholesome refreshments. The cake, finished with icing, presented colors of red and gold which blended harmoniously. The interior of the rooms were also decorated in these colors.

Mr. and Mrs. Gentry entertained in a royal manner and the day proved a most delightful one to the large number of guests, which included four who were in attendance at the wedding of the host and hostess. They were Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Taylor, Mrs. Lucy Ann Gentry and Mr. Geo. Gentry.

YOUNGSTER GOES TO PRISON SOON

Stanley Rogers, tried and convicted during the May term of the Madison county court on a charge of stealing chickens, and who was not granted a new trial after appealing his case, will in all probability be taken to the state prison within a few days, after having been held over here for several months.

Young Rogers, who hails from near Wallacetown, told an interesting story at the time of his hearing, and declared he was innocent. There was a young woman and another young man among the chief witnesses in the case, and it was through the testimony of the latter that Rogers was convicted, it is claimed. After giving the testimony against Rogers, the young man left the city and was later arrested and convicted and sent to a reform school. The young woman in the case met a similar fate, and she maintained throughout the hearing that young Rogers was innocent. However, she was not brought back.

BIG EXTENSION WORK

Extension work in connection with the Eastern Normal is said to be increasing, although there has been a number of classes started in other cities recently. This was an unexpected departure; however, the demand for the service called for it. The promoters are jubilant over the results, and there will be a large number of students at the institution, it is claimed, who will embrace this method of studying a part of their course at home later on after they have finished with the studies already taken up.

KENTUCKY FARMS DURING PAST DECADE

Number of Farms in Counties—How They Stand—Something About Stock, Etc.

There are 270,676 farms in the state of Kentucky in 1920, according to the 14th census of the United States Agricultural Department, a decided decrease over that for 1910, showing much property bought and extension of farming upon the part of those who had settled here previous to that time. According to the manner of compilation, a "farm" for census purposes, is all the land which is directly farmed by one person, either by his own labor or with the assistance of his household or hired help. When a land owner has one or more tenant renters, croppers or managers, the land operated by each is considered a farm.

In this section of the state, there are more farms in Madison county than in any of the adjoining or nearby counties, there being 3,557, for this county, while Lincoln is the nearest county with 2,323. Madison almost trebles other surrounding counties, as the following figures will show:

Boyle, 1,394; Clark, 1,656; Es-sail, 1,832; Fayette, 1,978; Garrard 1,929; Jessamine, 1,534; Rockcastle, 2,302.

In 1910, Madison county led by a small margin, and has shown a steady decrease, indicating progressiveness in the way of extended holdings and adding tenants. A steady progress is shown by the reports of production and the development of some products has been wonderful.

Reports issued by other bulletins indicate that tobacco has made the most rapid stride of any home grown product, while the cattle and horses have increased to a remarkable extent.

Quality in horses raised in Kentucky, as well as cattle, hogs and mules, also dogs and chickens. There was a period for several years that turkey raising developed to an unusual degree, however, there is a decline shown later.
